Jackie Marier Killed In Auto Accident

A 16–year–old Tahoe City girl was killed and her three–year–old sister critically injured in a tragic automobile accident just north of Prosser reservoir Saturday afternoon.

Believed to have been killed instantly was Jackie Marier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Marier, prominent Tahoe City residents and a popular Tahoe Truckee High School student.

In a Reno hospital, in what was described as a critical condition, was Jackie's sister, Dixie, who suffered head injuries.

Other occupants of the ill–fated vechicle, a 1968 sedan, driven by David Thomsen, 16, Hobart Mills, escaped with minor injuries but were treated at the Tahoe Forest Hospital. They were Laurence Murphy, 16, and Kathleen Humphries, 16, both of Tahoe City.

According to the California Highway Patrol, the car was traveling at an excessive speed for conditions and failed to negotiate a curve on a dirt road. It skidded out of control and overturned. The Marier girl was thrown some 40 feet through the air, landing in the roadway.

Officers were advised that the young people had planned to attend the home–coming football game at the high school but decided to take a ride as well. The accident occurred about 1:30 p.m.

The victim's parents were on a hunting trip in Colorado at the time and could not be notified until Sunday when they were flown home.

Funeral arrangements were being made with the Truckee Tahoe Mortuary.

Funeral Services are scheduled for 2 p.m. Thursday and will be performed by Rev. Charles R. Anderson, minister of the First Baptist Church at Tahoe City. Persons calling Truckee–Tahoe Mortuary at 587–4342, will be advised of the place at which the services will be held.

One Man's Opinion

By CARL BRIGGS

An article in the Grass Valley Union Tuesday, October 15, noted that the Nevada City Council had voted against any participation in the proposed two–year library demonstration in Nevada County.

The library plan has its pros and cons and Nevada City has every right to express its desires and participate or not participate as it sees fit, but councilman Bob Paine, in leading the forces opposed to the library plan, said that "Nevada City has no obligation to the cultural advancement of the county."

This is not exactly the kind of statement calculated to endear Mr. Paine to his constituents in this election year, a few of whom might be presumed to be a cut above Nevada City's rank and file beer and television strata, and one can safely assume that Mr. Paine is not running for political office.

If you find yourself unmoved by the above quotation then you should know that Mr. Paine also said, "As long as Truckee is allowed to go on gaining police protection, streets and a library and be spoon fed, they will never take on their own responsibility and incorporate."

Now, I don't know Mr. Paine personally and I am not sure I understand what his allusion to cultural advancement is all about. My last visit to Nevada City left me with the feeling that Mr. Paine is not obliged to advance culture there either, so the county could not reasonably expect more from him. But that's Nevada City's problem. They buttered their bread so let them lie in it.

What I am really curious about is the second statement, the one concerning Truckee, and I would like to ask Mr. Paine if he could please be a little more specific.

If Truckee is "allowed to go on gaining" police protection or streets or anything else, maybe Mr. Paine could be persuaded to rise to new heights of mediocrity and put his terms into proper perspective for us. "Allowed" by whom? "Gaining" in relation to what?

The term "spoon fed" denotes special dispensation, coddling, and preferential treatment, and I would like to ask Mr. Paine to again be a little more specific.

Whatever Truckee has received over the years from Nevada County it has had to fight for. Truckee has received nothing in county services that it has not rightfully deserved, and then some. Truckee and the eastern end of Nevada County has probably received less return for its tax dollar than any other area. Truckee, of all places in the county, has never, never been "spoon fed" anything, at any time, for any reason.

Mr. Paine's reference to responsibility and incorporation is an ironic conclusion to his statement. If the sense of responsibility demonstrated by Mr. Paine is an advantage of incorporation, then perhaps we can feel fortunate after all that Truckee declined to become a city.

Next Sunday, or maybe it's Saturday, is the end of Daylight Saving and the beginning of Standard Time, or else it's the other way around. You either turn our clock ahead an hour or back an hour Saturday night or Sunday morning.

I can never remember these details. All I know is that when you get up in the morning it is either an hour lighter or an hour darker than usual, but at that point I couldn't care less.

County Chamber Joins Chain

Directors of the Nevada County Chamber of Commerce have voted to join the Golden Chain Council but balked at purchasing the council's maps because of limited finances.

Directors approved spending $100 for dues but could not raise $300 needed to purchase 6,000 maps which publicize the Gold Rush country along California 49 including Grass Valley and Nevada City.

The County chamber issued a request that the area's local chamber of commerce purchase Golden Chain maps for their own needs.

Firemen Quell Blaze At Jack de Ryk Home

A fire believed to have been started by an electric toaster destroyed the kitchen and caused fire and smoke damage throughout the Donner Trail Estates home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack de Ryk Saturday.

An alarm was sounded at noon when a neighbor girl, Geraldine Domingo, saw smoke coming from the house. No one was in the dwelling at the time.

Three units of the Truckee–Donner Lake Volunteer Fire Department responded under the direction of fire marshal Reuben Maki and soon had the blaze extinguished, confining most of the damage to the kitchen area.

The only injury occured to de Ryk's 12–year–old spanial, which suffered severe smoke–inhalation and shock. The dog was outside until firemen opened the house, at which time the dog entered and sought safety under a bed. He was treated by Dr. Ray Wiser and later taken to a veterinarian.

Tropical fish in the kitchen were also rescued by firemen who transferred them to another container when heat from the fire broke their glass aquarium.

Wolverines Win Homecoming, 30-26

WOLVERINE WONDER — Curt (Cowboy) Wurst charges through the Lincoln High School line for a first quarter touchdown Saturday to put Tahoe–Truckee ahead, 6–0 in the annual Home–coming game; the local team went on to win, 30–26 before an enthusiastic hometown crowd. —Sun Photo

The Tahoe – Truckee High School football team came into its own Saturday on the local field with a hard–earned and well deserved Homecoming victory over a big, fast Lincoln High School eleven by a score of 30–26.

Tahoe–Truckee surged to a 12–0 first quarter lead with two hard–driving touchdowns by Curt (Cowboy) Wurst on runs of 7 and 9 yards.

A second quarter touchdown by little Augie Acosta on a 5–yard dive was matched by a Lincoln score and the Wolverines led at half time, 18–6.

The tough Lincoln Zebras came back strongly after the intermission, changing their offensive patterns and scoring two touchdowns and a conversion point in the third quarter while Tahoe–Truckee retaliated with another score by Wurst on a 15–yard run.

The thin Wolverine ranks began to tire visibly in the fourth quarter, yielding stubbornly to another Lincoln touchdown and conversion, and with the game drawing rapidly to a close the Zebras assumed the lead, 26–24.

Cheered on by an enthusiastic hometown crowd and a bevy of beauties comprising the Homecoming queen and her court, coach Dale Landon's Wolverines recovered in the final four minutes to score the winning touchdown on a 17–yard slant by Acosta, then held off a concerted Lincoln attack to win, 30–26.

Tahoe–Truckee, plagued all season by injuries and limited reserves, rolled up an impressive 461 total yards gained against their tough opponent, 390 yards rushing and 71 passing.

Wurst carried 31 times for 228 yards and an exceptional 7.6 yards per try.

Acosta packed the ball 17 times for 68 yards and a 4.0 average.

Mike Alves carried 6 times for 12 yards.

Quarterback Joe Mezger passed 5 times for 47 yards and Wurst 2 times for 21 yards.

In a preliminary game, Tahoe–Truckee's junior varsity battled the Zebra Jayvees to a 13–13 tie.

The Wolverines travel to Colusa Friday. Colusa has lost but one game this season, to powerhouse Wheatland, and defeated Colfax last week, 9–7.

Truckee PUD To Purchase Old Bug Station

Francis Longo, manager of the Truckee Public Utility District has been instructed by the board of directors to start negotiations for the purchase of the land and improvements of the old state quarantine station just west of Truckee on old Highway 40.

The station has been replaced by one on Interstate 80 in the same general location and the old station has been declared surplus and is to be sold.

The state Department of General Services recently notified local governmental agencies that the property would be sold at a price of $58,000 and gave them an opportunity to purchase prior to Nov. 26 at which time it would be offered to the public.

The improvements on the 2,321 acres of land includes the quarantine station buildings and a single–family dwelling. Longo said the district plans to remodel the station to provide an office and board room to replace the inadequate quarters now being rented in down–town Truckee.

The property adjoins the district's land and warehouse and will comprise a convenient unit when the alterations and improvements are made next summer, Longo pointed out. Cost of the proposed improvements has been estimated at $10,000.

If the sale to the district is consumated, and there seems little doubt that it will be, the new office and service department will be ready in July or August next year, Longo indicated.

Nevada Solons Plan To Create Agency To Regulate East Shore

RENO – A bill to create an interim state agency to guard against pollution of Lake Tahoe and over–development of its basin on the Nevada side will be co–sponsored next year by Nevada State Sen. Coe Swobe, R – Reno, and Assemblyman Lawrence Jacobsen, R–Minden.

The two Nevada lawmakers introduced competing Lake Tahoe bistate legislation earlier this year.

The new legislation would impose basically the same controls as called for under the compact adopted by Nevada and California earlier this year, but which has not become operative because of delays in Washington.

"Our bill will match on the Nevada side state controls all ready functioning on the California side of the lake basin," Swobe said Saturday when the two legislators announced their plans.

"Because of the situation developing in the Washoe County portion of the basin," Jacobsen explained, "we believe it is necessary to act quickly to allow review of all development in relation to a basin–wide master plan for Tahoe.

"It is obvious Washoe county authorities are being pressured to pass on development in a piecemeal fashion without complete review in relation to a long – range basin–wide plan."

Tahoe Taxi

North Lake Tahoe residents Calvin Nelson and Dave Busey have started the Tahoe City Taxi Service, the first such service at the north shore in several years.

The owners said they will start business with one car. Special efforts have been made to get skier passengers in the winter and tourist passengers in the summer.

The service area will be Tahoe City, Alpine Meadows, Squaw Valley and Truckee. Limousine service will be included.

Zunino Rites

Graveside rites were being held today at 2 p.m. in the Truckee cemetery for Chester B. Zunino, 55, a former Truckee resident, who died in a Sacramento hospital Sunday, Oct. 20. A rosary and mass were held in Sacramento Tuesday.

Zunino, a native of Italy, was the son of the late Jerry Zunino, a former well known Truckee resident and came to this country about 25 years ago. He resided here for some time before moving to Elk Grove where he engaged in business with his wife, the late Antonette Sala.

Surviving are two sons, John Zunino and Robert Detlessen both of Sheldon. There are eight grandchildren and a sister–in–law, Mrs. Isabel Clark resides in Reno.

Laxalt Picks Sack For Lake Agency

CARSON CITY – Gov. Paul Laxalt named Wednesday the city of Reno parks superintendent Ivan Sack, as the state representative to the Tahoe Regional (bi–state) Agency.

He said Sack will be chairman of the five–member Nevada group, joining with five members of the California Tahoe Regional Planning Agency to protect against disorderly development and pollution at Lake Tahoe.

The three Nevada counties bordering the lake have not appointed their representatives.

Laxalt said Elmo DeRicco will be on the agency by virtue of his position as state director of conservation.

Laxalt has called for a moratorium on development on the lake's North Shore until Congress ratifies the compact between California and Nevada, approved this year by legislatures in both states.

Laxalt asked the three counties to designate members for the agency as quickly as possible.

Last month, the California agency asked Laxalt to expedite appointment of Nevada representatives.

Sack is a former chairman of the executive board of the Lake Tahoe Area Council.

He retired in 1965 as supervisor of the Toiyabe National Forest.

"I have worked and studied problems of the Lake Tahoe Basin for some 30 years and realize there is potential for new problems continually," said Sack.

"It will be my objective to personally inspect each issue on the site before making an opinion," he said. "I will do this on my personal time and if travel funds of the commission are not sufficient, I will travel at my own expense."

File $100,000 Injury Suit

A $100,000 personal injury suit has been filed in Nevada City Superior Court by Pearl Dean Crawford against Fibreboard Corp., alleging she was injured in a fall at the Truckee office of a Fibreboard subsidiary, Douglas Timber Co.

$10 Million North Shore Project Set

TAHOE CITY — Plans have been announced for a proposed $10 million planned residential development here by Weyerhaeuser Co., R. T. Nahas Co., and Merrill–Brose Co.

In revealing plans for the 55–acre project, Robert T. Nahas, president of Oakland–Alameda County Coliseum and a real estate developers and investors firm, said the development will include about 250 family dwelling units, a beach club, private swimming club and professional tennis courts for residents.

Weyerhaeuser, an international forest products firm and largest manufacturer and distributor of wood products in the world, is headquartered in Tacoma, Wash.,; R. T. Nahas is an Oakland company; and Merrill–Brose operates out of San Francisco. The three firms have entered a joint venture agreement for the development.

Nahas will be managing partner of the project. Lon Varnadore, vice president and general manager of Wyerhaeuser Properties Inc., will direct his company's participation.

Nahas anticipates detailed plans for the project will be completed in time for construction in early spring of 1969. He notes optimism for success of the project due to the general upturn in construction and home building in the North Shore area.

The Candidates Corner

Rose Reveals Ten-Point Program

"At the request of a number of individuals and civic groups and organizations in the fifth district, I have evolved my campaign platform into a ten-point program that I feel clearly and concisely sets forth my intentions and philosophy if I am elected your county supervisor," Zeph Rose said Monday in a statement in Truckee.

"The ten points of my program are as follows: 1. A more favorable allocation of our own taxes and federal grants. 2. Use the most modern management techniques to upgrade and expand the services we receive from the road department and to improve our crime-prevention and apprehension. 3. Provide here in Truckee the legal services of the district attorney's office and the county counsel's office on a full time basis. 4. Review the operations of all the approximately 30 county departments with a view to receiving a greater benefit without increasing costs."

"5. Build and operate in Truckee with county, state, and federal funds a major information and rest center to serve the many thousands of visitors and travelers who normally pass us by. 6. With the aid of outside funds, assist the Truckee Merchants Association to renovate downtown Truckee. 7. See that the people of Floriston receive help in paving their almost impassable streets. 8. Maintain maximum maintenance on all streets and roads in our district, including Donner Summit. 9. Keep snow clear of public parking areas as much as possible as an additional public service and to keep parked cars off the roads, thus increasing normal snow removal efficiency. 10. Promote the attitude throughout all county employees that their reason for being on the county payroll is to serve the public to the best of their ability."

Rose went on to say that his ten-point program can be put into effect and assist in building the eastern Nevada County into an exciting and thriving community where people will take pride in beautifying their homes and their businesses.

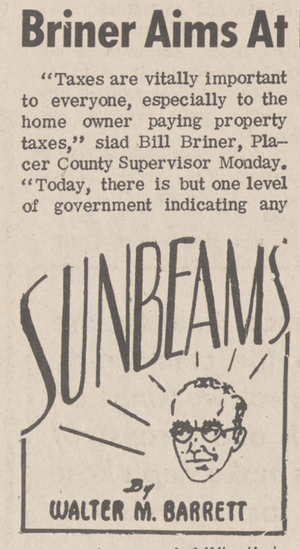
"We will be able to take pride in the greater success of our crime prevention activities. We will have more money and increased business in the area. Just consider the great assets we have — we are the hub of the greatest all around recreation complex in the world. We are also the major gateway to the greatest state in the union, and we have the people locally who are capable of making great strides forward. I thing we should all stop thinking of reasons why something can't be done, and instead say, 'Come on, let's just DOit!' "

"A lot of background work has already been accomplished on this ten-point program," Rose concluded. "With the free time I have and my understanding of the internal functioning of government — budgets, allocations, legal requirements — and the necessity of laying the ground work, I have been able to spend many hours and days in Nevada City preparing myself to best serve this district if I am elected."

Briner Aims At Lower Taxes

"Taxes are vitally important to everyone, especially to the home owner paying property taxes," siad Bill Briner, Placer County Supervisor Monday. "Today, there is but one level of government indicating any desire to lower the cost of government to the people. It has been the duty of lower levels of government, especially the county level, where the supervisors are tuned into the people, to attempt to lower the cost of government. Higher office holders often fail to recognize who is the state and who is the electorate."

"As a member of the Placer County Board of Supervisors, I have worked diligently to keep the cost of government down, in turn, keeping our tax rate down. In the past year, as a driving force working in Sacramento, we have been able to lower this cost to the people by at least $100,000, or 5 cents on the tax rate. This was not easy," Briner stated. "It took long hours and lots of work in Sacramento and a program for getting legislation passed. The product of these efforts has been to give the most services at the least possible costs. If re-elected, I will continue my efforts to lower the cost of government to the taxpayer."



There is a probability that one of Truckee's principal thoroughfares, Emigrant Way, will lose its identity.

The Nevada County Board of Supervisors has instructed County Council Leo Todd to prepare a resolution naming the street Donner Pass Road. The road will extend from Bridge Street in Truckee to the intersection with Interstate 80 at Kingvale on Donner Summit.

The only solution, if the new name does not meet with the approval of the residents and business people on the important issue, is to attend a public hearing to be called by the supervisors on a date yet undetermined.

The Nevada County Planning Commission held a hearing on the subject several weeks ago in Truckee and no one outside those in an official capacity attended from Truckee. However, a sizeable group from Donner Summit attended and requested that the name of the road over the summit be designated as Donner Pass Road.

Local interests have, since the meeting, argued that Emigrant way be allowed to retain its present designation at least to Donner Lake on old Highway 40 and from the lake to Kingvale be called whatever the people on the summit prefer. The board, however, has asked that the entire length of the highway from the center of Truckee to Kingvale have one name.

It was pointed out that Emigrant Way is currently the main street of this community both in downtown Truckee and in the Gateway and the suggested change would certainly not enhance its potential. However, the name Donner Pass Road should be retained for the area over the summit. It is hoped that a good representation from Truckee and Gateway will attend the hearing and let their choice be known.

Council Lauds Johnson

Congressman Harold T. (Bizz) Johnson, D-Second District, was one of eight California congressman to receive an award for service in the second session of the 90th Congress from the Council of the California Congressional Recognition Plan.

The work of the council is sponsored by Claremont, California Men's College.

Here's Riley

By ERNIE RILEY

Halloween! An article in one of last week's papers caught our eye. Seems one of the Los Angeles city fathers has fought and won a battle to keep perhaps the last Chick Sale in the city for posterity. Which brings to mind that just 50 years ago we were involved with one of these family conviences.

It was a dark and stormy Halloween eve when six of us in a group happened upon this outhouse with the crescent over the door. Silently we approached our object. With a mighty leave, over it went. How did we know that the sheriff of our town was occupying the building at the time?

Next morning, to our sorrow, we not only had to right and move the structure, but also had to dig a deep hole in the frozen ground.

Times have changed and I wonder if it is a good idea for children to go door-to-door for trick or treat as they have done in the past. So many people just don't care to open their doors after dark, and there are a few who give the kiddies treats that are not always best for them.

I would like to see more group activity for the young ones, such as costume parades in the early evening with lots of noise and prizes. Perhaps our recreation departments could handle this.

* * *

When will we learn? Last week in Pasadena three children were found dead in an unused freezer in which they had apparently locked themselves. One boy, seven, and twins, five, were found after an afternoon's search.

Last week I personally saw a freezer in the back yard of a friend. It was the kind of appliance that automatically locked when the door was closed. There were young children playing nearby. We removed the lock. Please check any places where the little ones might wander off to.

* *

Driving from Truckee to Tahoe City, the child bride remarked how beautiful the river, trees, and mountains were in their Autumn dress. Then we rounded a bend and saw plastered on a lovely tamarack tree a political sign about three feet long, asking us to vote for someone that should know better than to mar the beauty of our high Sierra.

We hope the man in question is ignorant of this wrong doing, as we doubt anyone would vote for a man who would despoil our area.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR, SIERRA SUN:

In the forthcoming general election, two vacancies on the Tahoe Forest Hospital Board of Directors will be filled. The only doctor on the board is not seeking re-election. There are several well qualified nominees. However, only one of the men running is a doctor on the hospital staff and I am writing this letter to emphasize the importance of having at least one medical doctor on the board of directors.

Dr. Robert Masters, who resides in Tahoe City, has been active in hospital affairs for the past two and one half years, since moving to our area from Salt Lake City. During this period he has served on the hospital records and tissue committee, the executive committee, and is currently the vice chief of staff of the hospital doctors. He has contributed greatly to the hospital and its services, both professionally in his specialty of anesthesiology and in improving the organization of the emergency room, surgery and anesthesia areas. He has been active in training ancillary personnel who work in these departments. He has also served as an anesthesia consultant for surrounding hospitals. He is a member in good standing of county, state and national medical societies. Prior to his coming to this area, he worked on hospital planning and guidance committees and was an instructor in the department of anesthesiology for four years in Salt Lake City.

The American Hospital Association recommends that at least one physician should be a member of any hospital board of directors. It is my feeling that this should be a mandatory requirement for our local hospital. However, as of the present time, the decision as to whether a doctor will be elected to the board will have to be left up to the voters. Dr. Dwight Wilbur, the current president of the American Medical Association, recently said that it was unthinkable that a hospital board of directors, in the business of administering medical care, a highly complex and technical service, should not have a least one physician among its members.

This past summer the Tahoe Forest Hospital was surveyed and granted accreditation by the National American Hospital Accreditation Commission. This official approval of our hospital was an essential step in improving standards of medical care. It was especially important in trying to attract new specialists to the area.

In the past few years, several well qualified doctors have decided not to come to this area solely because they did not want to practice in an "un-accredited" hospital. Without Dr. Masters untiring help, it is certainly unlikely that our hospital would have passed the accreditation survey. In this work, Dr. Masters demonstrated both his excellent organizational abilities and his truly professional attitude in serving the hospital and community.

The hospital staff has been advertising in three nationally circulated medical publications to attract more doctors to this area. Numerous doctors have responded and Dr. Masters has been active in encouraging these men to come to the North Tahoe-Truckee area. At the present time, two qualified specialists will tentatively be added to the hospital staff within the next few months and the staff is continuing to attempt to find yet a third doctor.

Dr. Masters has demonstrated his exceptional executive abilities and will continue to lend his essential professional ability and knowledge to the board of directors. He is endorsed unanimously by the Active Medical Staff.

EDITOR, SIERRA SUN:

Supervisors Briner and Paoli have approved three top county planning executives moonlighting with their own planning corporation! They are Justin Barber, planning director; Richard M. Heikka, assistant to Barber; and Thomas D. McMahan, a senior planner. Their initial ventures have included soliciting government contracts from neighboring counties in California.

In what must be one of the most unbelievable decisions ever made by elected representatives of the people, our incumbents approved of this policy. I am referring to a corporation called Western Planning and Research, whose corporation papers state: "Primarily to engage in the specific business of land and use planning; to engage generally in the business of research for, formulation of, and presentation of plans, " etc. This is exactly the same kind of work these three men perform for Placer County.

My source of information states that approval of this program by our county planners came at a closed-door meeting under the guise of a personnel meeting. It appears that this was more in the line of a policy decision which would require that it be held openly as required under the Brown Act.

Incorporation papers were filed with the Secretary of State on March 12, 1968. Since that time this corporation has been soliciting work from sister counties of Sierra and El Dorado where they actually carried on negotiations for contract work. Other counties were also advised our boys were available for moonlighting.

In the Sierra County case, Western Planning competed directly with Harry Halatyn, private planning consultant based in Sacramento. In the El Dorado County case, the competing private planners were Placer Planners based in Auburn.

All cases, of course, pose the question is this action conflict of interest? Imagine, if you will, an Auburn private planner going to the county planning staff for approval of his private projects, while at the same time competing for work against these same men in neighboring counties. The relationship must be strained, at best. It certainly puts the private group at ever disadvantage. How can they submit preliminary plans for projects without wondering if their beaurocratic peers would solicit their clients.

Because of this wierd arrangement, some planners are already passing Placer County by, full well knowing the position of the planning staff. Mr. Robert Gray, private planner in Auburn is a case in point. With millions of dollars now available for planning under the new housing act to governmental agencies, it is conceivable that several governmental executives could form their own corporations; and in the dual roles as city or county planners, solicit, promote and exchange contracts through their friends.

Questions arise: Would Mr. Barber, while speaking on behalf of planning for a Lake Tahoe basin grant of $274,000, use his inside information to secure this project for Western Planning? The question and the answers and contingencies go on and on. Planning at its best takes away the right of people. Zoning can make or break property owners. Many feel that it is a necessary evil; therefore, it must reach the heights for integrity, morality and ethics.

Mr. Briner, Mr. Paoli, the decision is yours.

You come through loud and clear away down here.

Although I cut out many of your columns and hang them on my bulletin board for my patients to read, your most recent one about Floriston was the little masterpiece of them all. EDITOR, SIERRA SUN:

Mr. Douglas Duff, the write-in candidate for fifth district supervisor, Placer County, is by far the best qualified of the three running. His sacrifice in personal time and money is well known to those 400 people who backed him up at the supervisor's meeting when he led the fight to hold the line on taxes. Those who observed this man's strong case for the taxpayer before the board of supervisors and staff, could not but be impressed with this man's knowledge and ability.

Candidates do not run on regions, they run on records—Duff has it. Any other vote would be wasted. After 20 years of the present incumbent, Briner, I want a change. I am writing in Duff, and urge fifth district voters to do so.

Donner Doings

By VI WHITE

Many people have shown concern over the pollution of Donner Lake from silt that will come from fill that is being used to level off lakefront properties. This might ruin fishing in some spots. It is hoped that an ordinance can become effective as soon as possible to prevent this from happening. A wall of some kind will have to be built to hold soil that is pushed near the waters edge.

An important meeting will be held on the raising and lowering of the lake at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow night at the Nevada County building in Gateway. Several local organizations have been invited to attend, but it is expected that several property owners will be there also. This will be an excellent opportunity to clear up several disputes that have become up during the years. Plan to be there.

* * *

The sewer lines are still making progress along the hiway near the vicinity of DonLac Lodge and near Greenpoint. Won't it be great to have it all finished and useable. We couldn't wait, and had to have our spetic tank pumped out the other day and after talking to the man operating the truck we're glad that it was done now rather than later when several feet of snow would have to be dug too.

* * *

It was a pleasure to walk up the golden dotted driveway to the John Maragliano's cabin nestled among the aspen trees; leaves are slowly covering the ground there. John and Dorothy showed slides of their Mexican trips to the Wes Goodwin's, the Les Hadley's and the Carson White's. We were amazed at the tropical beauty of the country and noted that the round bullfight arena resembles the Oakland Colosseum somewhat, with steep sides that enable each seat to have a good view. We showed our movies of the 1964 Winter Olympics held in Innsburck, Austria.

* * *

The Fire-ettes Autumn Happening was a huge success at Donner Lake Lodge last Saturday night thanks to all those who supported it. A gay time was had by all. Winner of the twelve-piece set of stainless flatware was Mrs. Paul Schreck of Donner Lake.

Although the Jack de Ryk's had a fire earlier in their home, they attended as did fire marshall Rubin Maki and his able fighters.

Chairman Marilyn Marquette recovering from a bout with the nasty flu was unable to be there, but things went very smoothly due to the many arrangements made previously. We hope her mother, Mrs. Neal, who has been hospitalized for several weeks will be back with Marilyn and Jack at Donner Shore Resort soon.

* * *

That flu bug has been around and caught Dawn Whitney and Johnnye Smith. Johnnye, new president of the Sierra Tinker Belles, was unable to attend the lovely installation luncheon in Reno and vice president Claudia Loynd was missed too because of a recent eye operation.

Dawn brought a new Donner Laker, Polly Hickman, wife of the game warden, and it was nice to see former neighbor Claudia St. Claire and former Gateway resident Pat Vind, who are living in Reno now.

* * *

The Ben Lobnow's visited the area a few weeks ago and stopped to see the "Whit" Whitney's Pan-A-Bode cabin they helped build. The Lobnow's live at Jackson Hole, Wyoming, in the summer and move to warmer climate during the winter months, so were passing through the area.

A new business has been established at Donner on the hiway, Sierra Carpets and Drapes. It's great to know that professional help on decorating is close at hand now that Bob Hartsen has moved his business from Walnut Creek to Donner Lake. His consulting room of Sierra Carpets and Drapes is located under their new house on the hiway near the east end of the lake.

Bonnie and Bob have two children; Robbie, 4 years, and two-year-old Debra. They love it up here and are fullfilling a dream of a lifetime. Bob's dad purchased the lot many years ago for him, and they are looking forward to enjoying the winter; he likes skiing.

Give him a call at 587-3421 for an appointment; he'll be glad to come to your home and help with any decorating problem.

* * *

Congrats to Rita and Harold Wilson on their recent marriage. Harold II is that great bartender at Donner Lake Lodge who can mix a mean Mai Ti.

* * *

Met Georgiana and Doc Ben King after the Raider-Charger game in Oakland; they are very happy in their Morgan Hill home where she can keep up with golf nearby.

* * *

It has been fun writing Donner Doings; next issue will carry a column called Sierra Skiing, by Carson and Vi White.

American Cancer Society Offers Local Aid

The Tri-County Branch of the American Cancer Society has again informed the residents of El Dorado, Nevada, and Placer counties of the services which are available to cancer patients throughout the area.

Dressings which are made by the Order of Eastern Star are provided free of charge in types and amounts which are needed upon a doctor's request. They are delivered to the patient's home at no cost and can be ordered through the branch office in Auburn or through the service chairman for this area, Mrs. Doris Ashley, 885-3515.

Sickroom equipment is available on a loan basis. Such items as wheelchairs, hospital beds, comodes, walkers, colostomy supplies and other miscellaneous items can be supplied, as well as arrangements for speech therapy for cancer patients through existing facilities close to our area.

Since the Tri-County Branch has no volunteer mobile unit for the transporting of patients they provide money for gasoline to treatment centers closest to the patients home.

The Cancer Society does not provide funds for hospital or physician fees. All services are provided on the recommendation of the attending physician and counseling is available to anyone concerned about cancer. The Tri-County Branch office in Auburn will supply information about the available medical and community resources which are available. Phone 885-6991.

Deadline Noted For Filing Unemployment Return Forms

Thursday, October 31, is the deadline for filing California Unemployment Insurance wage reports and contribution returns for the third quarter of 1968, Scot C. Harrington, Auditor in Charge for the State Department of Employment in Placerville, today reminded employers.

Penalty and interest will be charged if the report is filed after the deadline, Harrington said.

Employers who need help in preparing their returns and wage reports may contact Mr. Harrington at 895 Spring Street, Placerville, Ca. 95667, or telephone 622-2525.

Two weeks off is too often followed by two off weeks.

Trem Talk

By BETTY SHIVELY

TNT has many activities going on at the moment - unusual things – to make "the same old grind" more tolerable and enjoyable. This past week was an example. There was a coed basketball game; a "kangaroo court;" an experience in 2069 Space Odyssey; topping all events was Saturday's Homecoming football game against the Lincoln Zebras.

* *

Last Monday was the beginning of Spirit Week. The student body was to wear dark colors – black or blue. These colors were to represent the "future colors" of the Lincoln Zebras. In order to give the varsity fellows a little practice in handling stiff competition, the Senior GAA girls challenged the team to a game of flag football. Unfortunately the snow, wild as it was, discouraged the contestants from an outside game. Instead, the varsity played the fearless girls a game of basketball. George Franceschini did a great job of coaching the girls. He really knows how to handle them!

At the half–way point in the game the girls needed a little help, so they put a skirt on Mike Henderson (Mike is 6'8"?) to qualify him for the girls' team. The audience enjoyed the game!

* * *

Tuesday was "Tie and Glove Day." Student Council was pleased to have a guest speaker – Mrs. Howard Fish. The subject of her talk was the county library system and bookmobile. The need for the traveling library in this area is evident as all persons are unable to get to the high school library. If enough interest and enthusiasm is shown for the bookmobile in Truckee and Donner Lake and Floriston, the Nevada County Board of Supervisors will most likely approve the library. For more details contact Mrs. Fish.

* * *

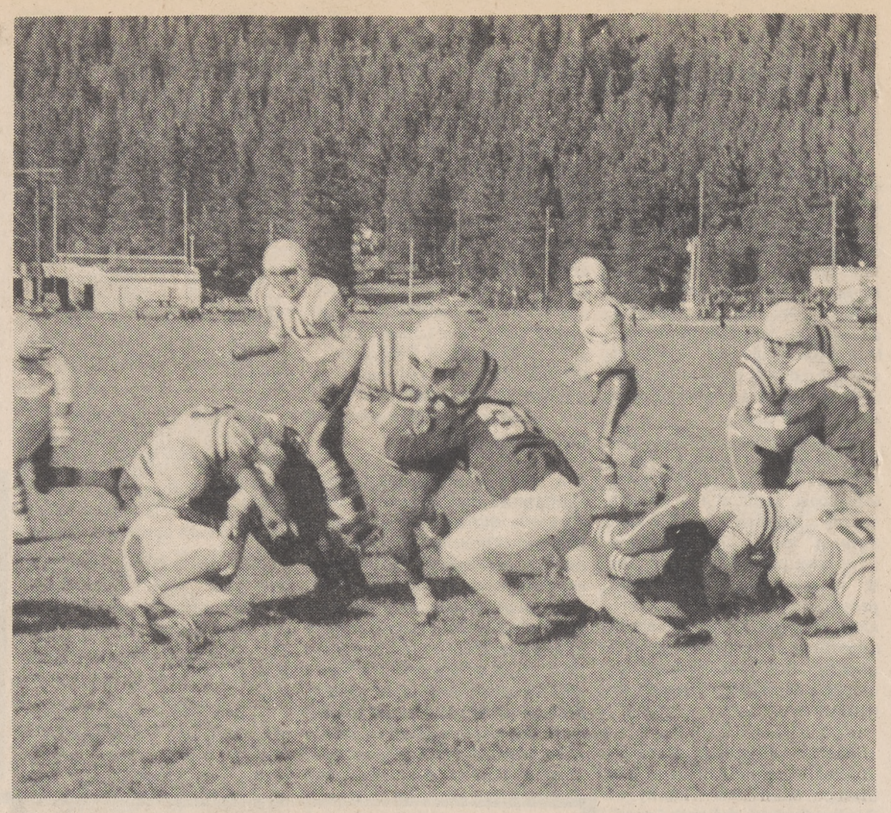
Wednesday was "Hat Day." Thursday was the first time we have had a "Wear–anything–but–school–clothes Day." Of course there were a few "no–noes" listed, but if a student did wear regular school attire, he was to be tried before the Kangaroo Court. The court organizer and fearless leader, John Gorrindo, showed up in his T–shirt and Levis as he normally wore, so Mr. Gorrindo was punished by the court. His punishment consisted of marching through five buckets – two filled with water, one with syrup and one raw eggs (uncracked at first), and one of shaving cream! That should teach him to comply with school rules!

* * *

Thursday after the close of classes the halls were completely camouflaged. The Sophomores wanted to "down the Zebras" so their hall gave one the illusion of walking along the beach with an ocean of water–logged Zebras. The Juniors intended to lock the Zebras in jail. Each classroom was a different cell. At the very end of the hall was Death Row – for the Zebras. The peaceable Seniors decided to "freak–out" the Zebras. Their hall was completely blacked out except for a little light filtered through colored openings on the windows and a flashing strobe light! What an experience. Out–of–sight sounds filled the hall; eerie streamers hung from the ceiling; slippery something covered the floor; and HAL computer blinked his lights at the end of the hall. The kids arrived at school early Friday morning couldn't see which lock was which! It was pretty funny to see them feeling the locker numbers to find their own locker! This black–out didn't last all day – only until the sun moved around to that side of the building.

* * *

What everyone has been waiting for from the football team came Saturday – a VICTORY! The varsity played a fantastic game and had a rooting section to match. In the fourth quarter the Zebras lead by 2 points, but in the last four minutes of play the Wolverines carried the ball over the goal line for a touch–down and Victory – Wolverines 30 – Zebras 26! Joe Mezger was injured in the first half, but after he crowned the queen and kissed all the girls, his leg wasn't bothering him at all. Presto – no pain! We all wish a speedy recovery to Mike Alves who sustained an injury during the second half of play.



WINNING TOUCHDOWN — Augie Acosta smashes through the big Lincoln line on a 17–yard charge late in the fourth quarter to bring Tahoe–Truckee from behind to win, 30–26; tiring Wolverines held off a last ditch effort by the determined Zebras to win their annual Homecoming game. —Sun Photo

Kings Beach Flag Teams Win

Kings Beach Lions used a strong running game and a devastating defense to trip Tahoe City 13–0 Thursday afternoon.

The Lions received the opening kickoff and held it for almost the entire first quarter when Tahoe City went to the air. Lions defensive back David Ferrari stole the ball and galloped 20 yards into the end zone for the Lions first score. Quarterback Mike Kornazewich waltzed around left end for the point after touchdown. Middle Linebacker, Steve Russell, swiped the second pass of the day to begin the second quarter. The Lions took possession on the 12 yard line. Kornazewich scooted over on the first play. The try for point failed.

The second half was a see–saw defensive battle with each team being able to threaten only once. A brillant run by the Tigers fullback put the ball on the Lions 10 yard line, but they were stalled at that point.

As the game ended the Lions were on Tahoe City's 1 yard line thanks to a pass to Russell Brett covering 25 yards. The Lions used the punting of Mitch Frazier to maintain field position and preserve their shut–out.

The Kings Beach 4–5–6 grade Lions battled to a 6–6 tie with Tahoe City Tuesday afternoon. It was a defensive battle with both teams showing plenty of hustle. The Lions scored first. They took the ball in midfield and picked up two first downs with slashing runs by Eugene Cason and Gorden Bitler. Scott Wilson faked to Bitler and skirted his right for the final sixteen yards. It was the fourth quarter before either team could gain an advantage. Tahoe City quarterback started to his right, cut back and out distanced the Lion defenders to the double stripes. The Lion defensive held the game to a tie.

"Saga" Reported Available

Through the interest and co–operation of local author Edward B. Scott, Incline Branch Library now has one copy each of his "Saga of Lake Tahoe," and "Squaw Valley."

The best available contemporary sources on their respective subject areas, both books are now out of print.

Equally comprehensive and authoritative in its area is Scott's newest book, just published in limited edition, "Saga of the Sandwich Islands," the 'eight pound baby' to which Herb Caen devoted a recent column. Similar in format to the Lake Tahoe "Saga," it gives an exhaustive overview of Hawaiian history, inspiring nostalgia through its wealth of photographs with painstakingly researched commentary. All three books are in the library due to the generosity of Arthur L. Wood.

Other gifts to the library during the months of August and September included National Geographic magazines, novels both hardbound and in paperback, several poetry collections, auto repair handbooks, Who's Who in the West, and Dictionary of International Biography, the last two given by John Zenzic.

The other gifts came from Incline Community Presbyterian Church, Helen Olson, Roger Taylor, John Marean, and Cleve Anderson.

Chamber Gets County Funds

Three hundred dollars has been alloted to the Truckee–Donner Chamber of Commerce to defray costs of promotional material by the County Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors.

Next meeting of the Chamber is set for today October 23, at noon at My House, just across from the high school. Candidate for Supervisor, Willy Curran, will speak before the group. John Gallegos, manager of the county chamber, will also be present.

The controversial library program will also be discussed at the noon meeting. Also on the agenda will be an airing of views on lowering control on Donner Lake.

Businesses will be asked to sponsor strategically placed shelters for the school children. Rex Reid of the Builders Service Center is designing the shelters.

A large turnout is expected at the next meeting, so the business session will begin early.

A cocktail party is a gathering at which you meet people who drink so much you can't remember their names.

State Park Project Is Criticized By Regional Planning Agency

Indignant remarks about the state came forth when California Tahoe Regional Planning Agency members heard Wednesday that construction is under way at Sugar Pine Point State Park without permission from the agency.

No one knew exactly what kind of work is taking place. But the agency was irritated: the state created it to regulate construction in the basin and then went ahead with construction without consulting the agency.

Jerry Martin said he understands work on roads and underground utilities is proceeding and that neither El Dorado County nor CTRPA sanctioned the project.

Agency members said the matter will be looked into.

Two members were absent – Frank Souza, attending a meeting of the League of California Cities, and Norman (Ike) Livermore, whose car reportedly broke down on the way to the meeting.

Bill Briner said the construction is another example of the state going over the heads of local governments "in complete violation o the law."

Briner also leveled criticism at the Water Resources Agency which wants to hold a performance bond from developers of Star Harbor near the U.S. Coast Guard station at Lake Forest.

The bond is to insure the developer maintains water quality by diverting surface water runoff around the harbor.

The water resources agency also requested that the developer "be required to continue a surveillance program satisfactory to the resources agency."

Briner conceded the conditions and voted with the agency in approving a tentative subdivision map for the harbor and a portion of the beach.

But he said the water resources agency's actions indicate they want to replace local government in running the lake basin.

The Star Harbor development calls for a breakwater that could create a lagoon, possibly causing stagnant water.

The developers must meet other conditions including posting surety bonds to guarantee completion of proposed construction.

The agency adopted a preliminary budget to finance planning studies through June 30, 1970, for the lake basin. Expenditures of $261,000 are proposed. The resultant plan would control the basin until 1990.

Of the amount, $174,000 will be applied for in a federal planning grant. The balance would come from cash contributions and services provided by California and the counties of El Dorado and Placer.

The budget is within a report outlining the type of planning studies to be conducted. The report is based on the premise that a bi-state agency will accept the planning budget.

If it is accepted, it is assumed that Nevada will contribute more money to the budget, according to Bruce Robinson, vice-chairman of the agency's Technical Advisory Committee.

The reason for preparing the budget prior to formation of a bi-state agency is to get in an early bid for a federal planning grant, Robinson said.

Letters from Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., and U.S. Rep. Harold T. (Bizz) Johnson, D-Calif., were read, stating that it is unlikely the House and Senate judiciary committees will meet again during this Congressional session. The bi-state bill is in those committees.

Therefore it is unlikely the agency will be formed this year.

CTRPA chairman J. Allen Bray noted that $2,500 is forthcoming from California toward the agency's expenses.

A TAC member commented that, when South Lake Tahoe officials notified CTRPA that secretarial services would no longer be furnished by the city, the state had to come up with some money to replace those services.

Secretarial Specialties Service, South Lake Tahoe, has been retained by the agency until arrangements are made for a permanent agency.

In other action, CTRPA members:

— Said a joint meeting soon will be held with El Dorado and Placer counties' board of supervisors to discuss an operating budget for the agency. The meeting will be at Placerville.

— Adopted a resolution objecting to proposed allocation of Lake Tahoe waters to the

Lake Water Said Pure

A recent Associated Press story from Berkeley said Lake Tahoe's water is clean, clear and pure, but precautions must be taken to maintain them that way, the state board of public health revealed.

The board adopted a resolution and issued a report after making inspections and hearing testimony.

The health board's resolution noted "The direct or indirect introduction of nutrients resulting from man's activities threatens to accelerate the entrophication process and impair the visual quality of the lake waters.

The board recommended early completion of a system for taking sewage wastes away from the lake's basin.

Beautify Corner

Truckee residents volunteers are at work beautifying the corner of Church Street and old Highway 40 where a "Truckee, The Vacation Land" sign will be erected.

The corner has been cleaned up and leveled and volunteers are bringing in fill dirt. Flowers will be planted with white rock surrounding the sign.

Anyone desiring to make a donation to the project or wanting to volunteer services and labor, please call Mrs. Crawford at 587-3714.

Immunization Clinic Set For Truckee

The regular Nevada County Immunization Clinic will be held this Friday, October 25, at the Nevada County government center in Gateway, between 12 noon and 1 p.m.

As Doctor Wiser is away on vacation, the new full-time health officer, Dr. Keenan, from Nevada City, will be presiding over the clinic.

Kathy Friendshuh Marriage Plans Have Been Announced

The engagement of Kathy M. Friendshuh to Richard Edward Bulman has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Friendshuh of Bloomington, Minn.

Both young people are residents of Incline Village. Bulman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bulman of Incline.

Miss Friendshuh is a graduate of Bloomington schools. She is employed at Eagle Thrifty Store in Incline. Her bridegroom elect is a graduate of Truckee High School. He is frozen food manager at Eagle Thrifty Store in Incline and a member of the U. S. Naval Reserve Unit in Reno. He is slated to report for active duty next May.

The wedding has been scheduled for Dec. 22 at Lutheran Church in Tahoe City. A reception at the Chateau at Incline Village will follow the ceremony.

A Tahoe City marriage license was issued to Robert John Rauzi, 35, and Loan Louise Young, 38, both of Stockton.

INCLINE SKI SWAP
"Come One, Come All" to the Incline Ski Club Annual Ski Swap — Everybody Welcome — Fun for the Entire Family
Sunday, Oct. 27 — 1-6 P.M.
AT THE WORLD FAMOUS
SKI INCLINE LODGE
Admission — Adults 25' — Kids 10'

WHAT IS A SKI SWAP?
Just about every skier has some equipment or clothes that he wishes to sell. On the other hand, many families are looking for an economical way to purchase ski equipment, either for the adults or the kids . . . thus, a SKI SWAP. Persons wishing to SELL equipment bring the items to the SKI SWAP. They determine the selling price and the Ski Club adds a handling fee of 25c per item under $25.00, 50c from $25.00 to $50.00 and $1.00 per item over $50.00. Persons wishing to purchase equipment then have the opportunity to look all items over and make their own decisions. Ski Club instructors will be on hand to aid you in your decision-making if you are a beginner. SKI SWAPS are how many people get started skiing at a very reasonable price.

Negotiators Seek To Speed Up Bi-State Pact

CARSON CITY, Nev. – Disappointed bistate water negotiators will meet Friday to map plans designed to speed up federal consideration of the proposed California–Nevada Interstate Compact.

The compact allocating between the states the waters of Lake Tahoe and the Truckee, Carson and Walker Rivers was adopted three months ago after 13 years of interstate negotiation and formally signed by compact commissioners from each state early last month.

The negotiators now are anxious to start moving the document through the various federal agencies so it can be submitted to Congress for its approval as soon as possible.

To expedite federal approval, a special information committee of representatives from each state was named July 25.

At that time, the states told the federal representative on the compact the committee would be available in Washington, D.C. or anywhere in the West to answer questions which may be raised by federal agencies in their review of the compact.

Since Aug. 1, said Nevada State Engineer Roland D. Westergard, efforts to learn review progress by federal officials were frustrated until mid-October.

Then Charles Renda of Sacramento, legal counsel to the compact's federal representative, told the states one hour has been set aside Nov. 14 for a hearing before the Bureau of Budget in the nation's capital.

Renda indicated, Westergard said, "there would not be an opportunity for explanation before the various federal agencies prior to development of a federal position on the compact. Rather, the individual federal agencies will first report to the Bureau of Budget and at that time the federal position will be decided."

Westergard said he "and other Nevada representatives are concerned about the time limit of one hour to present an explanation only to the Bureau of Budget on matters that required 13 years of negotiation between state representatives."

The joint compact commission intends to present the document to legislatures of each state early next year for their ratification – the next step necessary in the drive toward a final bistate water allocation.

Westergard said matters for discussion of the Friday meeting in addition to means of expediting consideration by federal interests, include "joint legislation to be submitted to California and Nevada lawmakers and arrangements to inform legislators of the compact provisions before the next session."

The WSCS met at the Kings Beach Methodist Church Fireside Room Monday night. Vera Daegling was in charge of the evening's program with President Pearl Draney in presenting the charter membership ceremony.

New members of the WSCS are Dottie Hart of Tahoe City, Margaret Irving of Squaw Valley, Anita Melen of Tahoe City, Jenny Jacobsen of Kings Beach and Judy Thatcher of Tahoe Vista.

Also present were Mary Ann Dwyer, Marguerite Ashton, Helene Hawkins, Laura Wilson, Arlene Reynolds, Pat Hutchinson, Fran Thompkins and Eda Judy.

Special refreshments were made by Eda Judy and served with coffee following the meeting.

The next meeting will be October 28 at the Fireside Room with the Truckee WSCS meeting with the Kings Beach WSCS.

* *

Flo Goodspeed of Crystal Bay spent the weekend in Durham readying the residence of her sister, Claire, prior to her return from a several months round the world trip.

* *

Bonnie Moore, who has been a houseguest of Flo and Ryland Goodspeed at Crystal Bay, is visiting friends in Chico. Bonnie is making a tour of the west and plans a trip around the world in the near future.

* *

Nelle and Don Barkhurst have arrived at their Cal Neva Heights, Crystal Bay, home after an absence of two and a half years. They left Tahoe for Astoria, Oregon, and the motel business. However, they have sold the business and are now happily returning to Tahoe activity and greeting old friends.

* *

Dorothy Mercer of Incline Village has entered the 500 mile sno-mobile race from Winnipeg, Canada, to St. Paul, Minnesota, to be held January 27. Thus far, Dorothy is the only woman to enter the race. She has a mighty good chance of winning this, having won many races in this area and against men experts in the sno-mobile racing field. National TV coverage will make Dorothy's entry in this event great publicity value to the North Shore of Lake Tahoe. In fact, publicity that no one individual could afford.

Dorothy has not selected her sponsor as yet.

60th Anniversary For The Elder Toninis

Local friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Tonini will join in congratulating the couple on the occasion of their 60th wedding anniversary.

The Toninis were long-time residents of Truckee and only recently moved to Moro Bay where they established their home. A small family gathering of close relatives joined in a celebration at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tonini, 621 Lilac Drive, Los Osos, on Oct. 21 to assist them in the observance.

Tonini was only recently released from the San Luis Obispo hospital where he had undergone medical treatment and is recuperating at his home.

Both Alva and Ben Tonini were active in local civic and fraternal affairs when they lived here and he was associated for many years with his brother, Robert, in the operation of Tonini's Grocery. He was a past president of the Truckee Lions Club and active in other community organizations.

Post Office Expects Tons Of Overseas Holiday Gifts

Tons of St. Nick's gifts will be going to members of the armed forces in Vietnam by special ship this year, thanks to a joint Pentagon – Post Office venture.

A fast US cargo ship will be designated the "1968 Santa Claus Special", sailing from Oakland, next month with Christmas parcels.

To meet the sailing deadline and assure pre-holiday delivery of gifts sent with surface postage, items should be mailed before November 9. They should be marked "Santa Claus Special" just below the stamps.

The "Santa Claus Special" will sail during the latter half of November and stop at Da Nang, Qui Nhon, Cam Rahn Bay and Saigon, Vietnam. It takes approximately three weeks for a fast ship to cross the ocean.

All gifts should be packed in strong containers with adequate cushioning and correctly addressed, including APO and FPO numbers.

There are several options available for mailing to the military which can save money. Post offices across the nation have free pamphlets available which outline the mailing programs for servicemen and women overseas.

Crews Collect Pine Cones

Inmates from the Hobart Mills Conservation Camp have collected 265 sacks of green pine and fir cone crops, enough to reforest 21,000 acres of timberland, according to James Kaderabek, timber management assistant for the Big Bend Ranger District of the Tahoe National Forest.

The cones were shipped to the U.S. Forest Service nursery near Placerville where the cones are dried and the seeds extracted and placed in prepared beds. One to three years later, the young trees will be shipped to national forests in the zones from which they originally were collected.

Offer Investment Class At Incline High School

Investments, risks and obligations of investors were detailed last night by Grant J. Weise Jr. of Dean Witter & Co., Inc.

The account executive held the first session of a two-day class at Incline on "Investing in Mutual Funds." The Wednesday, Oct. 23, companion session will be held at 7:30, room 204, Incline High School.

Weise introduced his subject by explaining the "who invests" as the person who is interested in obtaining greater potential return on his capital than he is now getting.

He said primarily any investment is a risk, no matter how good.

"And the investor has a definite obligation to determine first whether or not he can afford it," said Weise.

"Is he (the investor) carrying adequate insurance and does he have enough reserve above investments to pay for it? Does he have money in the bank so he doesn't have to draw on his investments for emergencies?"

The stock and bond account executive explained a "mutual fund" as a group of investors who pool their money with one management. Purpose of the pool is to obtain four basic things: Maximum buying power for their dollar; diversity; professional management; and to minimize but not eliminate risk on investment.

The Wednesday session will review Tuesday's information and delineate types of funds. These include low risk or income funds; medium risk which is gross funds; and higher risk which are aggressive gross (six months or more) and appreciation (immediate gain) funds.

Questions and answer periods follow the sessions.

Squaw Dinner

The Tahoe Squaws have announced a dinner Wednesday, Oct. 23 to honor past presidents and old members. New members will also be initiated said members of the board of directors following their meeting this week.

The dinner will be held at Bacchi's Restaurant at Lake Forest at 8 p.m. New members are Linda Moore, Vonnie Keating, Scottie Sherman and Joyce Wellings.

Also discussed were prizes and decorations for the group's "La Fiesta Affair" to be held Nov. 23 at Squaw Valley Lodge. Tickets are now on sale.

The board meeting was held at the Squaw Valley home of Mrs. Lee Van Wetter. Attending were Mesdames Herbert Kahn, Bud Nillson, John Reily Jr., Dean Ormsby, Richard Deliantoni, James McCafferty, Pat Gregor and George Davis.

Eleven-Point Development Policy For North Shore Areas

By FLORENCE BURGE

An 11 point North Tahoe development policy plan for present rehabilitation and a 20-year future planned growth of Kings Beach, Brockway, Carnelian Bay, Tahoe Vista and Placer County, was presented last Wednesday at a meeting of the King's Beach Community Club.

George Gatter of Planning Associates, San Francisco, who presented the plan, asked approval of the policy. The itemized presentation was referred to the club's planning committee for study and recommendation.

During discussions Fred Barber of the Placer County Planning Commission raised the question of who would vote on the proposed policies and plans.

"In regard to all the policies and plans (for rehabilitation and future growth of the area), their adoption and/or rejection is up to members of the community regardless of whether they are paying members of the Community Club or not," said President Earl Gary.

"All they have to do is come down to the meeting and vote."

Gatter, before presenting the development policy, noted that research of the area reveals:

Of all the buildings, 72 per cent are dilapidated, 35 per cent are in need of major repairs, and only 28 per cent are sound;

There are still more than 400 vacant lots in Kings Beach subdivision;

Two new homes were built this year while nine were removed by fire or replacement;

Retail sales have been declining since 1965;

Motel operators get less than half the normal Tahoe income per room per year;

Merchants get only 65 per cent of normal annual sales volume per square foot of floor space;

It is difficult or impossible to get private investment capital in the area for commercial or residential buildings;

Many prospective investors have come, looked around, and then left.

Gatter cited the fact the communities involved were ideally situated for development to a high economic level. He said the natural bowl formed by the land contour and the extensive beaches (now privately owned) could easily accommodate a 1985 projection of 6,000 permanent residents and up to 22,000 tourists in a single summer day.

"And they'll (tourists) be here. Whether they stop or drive on through, is up to you," said Gatter noting the two entrances to the area, Highway 267 and 89, connect with the trans-continental highway, 80, a trans-continental railroad and an airport.

The redevelopment policy devised from research and from questionnaires solicited from all residents and taxpayers calls for:

Top quality architecture with "retention of natural amenities" and replacement of obsolete, sub-standard or inadequate buildings or uses;

Year around recreational opportunities and full development of the entire "bowl" to its commercial and economic potential as a first-class town;

Preservation and protection of rural, rustic tree-covered surroundings, expansion of beaches, parks and open spaces as well as buildings consonant with the best "Lake Tahoe Style" of architecture (to be illustrated in a Community Design Guide);

An industrial park invisible from main roads and other winter employment installations such as skier accommodations, steam baths, arts and crafts, colleges, winter entertainment to be supplemented by low-cost summer shelter.

All types of recreation for winter and summer, indoor and outdoor, for families, children and visitors;

Meeting places, schools, cemetaries, downtown sidewalks and other public and private community facilities;

For the near future: coordinated effort to expand public beaches and redevelop, privately, central areas now devoted to obsolete buildings. If this proves inadequate, a public redevelopment project to bring entire area up to desired environmental stands thus sustaining local economy;

Establish a Sierra Design Review Committee to advise county planning commission on architectural adequacy and conform to standards set up in the general plan and the Community Design Guide.

Within next 20 years; removal of billboards; controlled signs; placing utility and other wires underground; removal of trailors to well-designed parks off the main road system; replacement or renewal of substandard buildings; adoption of a design plan for entire community.

Encourage development of following recreational facilities: heated pool (Olympic size?) yacht harbor and marina, nine more holes of golf, ski and winter play slopes, Brockway spa club house, summer theater, fishing pier and ferry landing, boat ramp, summer camp, seaplane facility, tennis courts to be used as ice skating rink in winter, stables and riding trails, snow-cat course and possibly a tramway to the fire lookout.

Gatter said there were numerous ways to achieve the rehabilitation and development plans. He said private development corporations would depend on private capital which has been unwilling to loan in the area for several years.

The planner recommended "dramatic" area improvement could be achieved by applying for $4 to $5 million in Federal Redevelopment funds.

"I now have enough facts that I believe would qualify this area for federal funds," said Gatter.

"Adoption of a general policy, whether it is this one or one you (members of the community) work out, is the next necessary step before going ahead with any further planning."

Residents attending the meeting expressed mixed reactions to the policy presentation as well as its financing. Some felt "why worry about the future, we won't be here to see it." Others voiced general approval. President Earl Gray was emphatic in his personal opinion about federal financial aid.

"When the government comes in, you're in trouble and I'm going to fight it (federal assistance in rehabilitation) all the way," said Gray.

However, Mrs. Gladys Wilcox was given a hand when she said, "My places (buildings) would be the first to go (be torn down for replacement). I say, let's go!"

Christmas Decorating Class Offered By Park District

The Truckee-Donner Recreation Park District will again offer classes in pine-cone decorating by Mrs. Betty Dearman and Mrs. Muriel Longo; Christmas ball – making by Mrs. Esther Fox.

Mrs. Dearman will hold pine cone classes on the following Mondays: starting November 4, 11, and 18. Mrs. Longo will hold her pine cone classes on Thursdays starting November 7, 14, and 21.

Christmas ball classes will be held on Wednesdays starting November 6, 13, and 20 and the last class will be held Monday the 25th. All classes will start at 7 p.m. in the Art Room of the High School.

A one-dollar registration fee will be charged for the complete course in pine cone and Christmas ball decorating. This may be paid at the district office in Gateway or at the first class you attend. A complete list of supplies is available at the district office. Persons interested in these classes may pick up a list of supplies in advance of starting. This will allow time to start Christmas projects the first night.

Val-Aires Entertain At Nevada Lodge

Just as they did last March, the Val Aires are proving once again to be one of the top attractions to be starred at beautiful Nevada Lodge on the north shore of Lake Tahoe.

Headed by guitarist Joe Val, the group presents a dynamic performance that runs the gamut from contemporary hits to folk songs to standards of past decades. The musical fare is liberally laced with fresh wit and humor that keeps Nevada Lodge audiences happy and laughing.

Joe Val and The Val Aires are a spirited trio, with Joe Val's wife, Donna, complementing him on the accordion, plus a talented drummer to round out the combo.

As North Lake Tahoe's largest year-round resort hotel casino, Nevada Lodge presents sparkling entertainment 12 months of the year. The current engagement of Joe Val and the Val Aires is through November 3 . . .a bright two weeks for Nevada Lodge entertainment buffs. The group appears nightly in the hospitable Topaz Room.

ROBERT W. MASTERS, M.D.

Candidate For Board of Directors

Tahoe Forest Hospital District

Member: Active Staff Tahoe Forest Hospital
Placer-Nevada County Medical Society
California Medical Association
American Medical Association
American College of Anesthesiologists

Local area resident for the past two and a half years.

Dr. Masters has served on the Records and Tissue Committee, the Executive Committee, and is now Vice Chief of Staff at the Tahoe Forest Hospital. Prior to coming to the Tahoe Forest Hospital he served as a member of the Hospital Planning and Guidance Committee and was an instructor in the Department of Anesthesiology for your years in Salt Lake City.

Dr. Masters was instrumental in obtaining National Accreditation for the local hospital and has worked actively to encourage other qualified doctors to practice in this area.

Dr. Masters has demonstrated his executive ability and interest in hospital affairs by active participation on the Medical Staff. He will continue to work in your best interests.

He is unanimously endorsed by the Tahoe Forest Hospital Active Medical Staff.

North Lake Tahoe Chamber Pot-Shots:

By BETTY LAYTON

The chairman of the California Tahoe Regional Planning Agency, J. Allen Bray, who was appointed by the governor, is a long time property homeowner in Lake Forest. He has one of the most important jobs concerning the lake and its future. He will be the keynote speaker at the chamber's annual membership dinner. His talk, accompanied by the new film on Lake Tahoe, narrated by Governor Reagan, will be informative and what every resident of Lake Tahoe should know.

A short summary of the year's activities by president Dave Stollery and election of new directors will complete the outstanding program planned for the Chataux, October 30.

An excelletn new musical duo from Florida, Ronnie & Libby Campa, will be providing music for the evening. Dinner reservations are required and may still be made by phoning the chamber office, 583-3561. All members and guests are invited.

Fortunately, things are beginning to look bright for the defeat of Prop. 9 and the passage of Prop. 1A, the two property tax measures which will appear on the November 5 ballot. Almost all of our local public entities have taken a stand opposing Prop. 9 and in support of Prop. 1A.

On the statewide level, we have noticed that Mr. Watson, author of Prop. 9 is being sued for over $2 million for damages in unpaid bills by the very firm that he hired to secure the necessary signatures on the petition that placed his initiative on the ballot. In addition, early supporters such as the Los Angeles Board of Supervisors and the Irvine Ranch have since reversed their decision and are now going to support Prop. 1A. As best we can determine, only, the wool growers of Colusa are still supporting Prop. 9!

Ballot proposals on the November 5 Ballot receiving support of the California State Chamber of Commerce are: Proposition 1, constitutional revision; Prop. 1A, tax relief measure; Proposition 2, taxation of publicly owned property; Proposition 4, personal income tax; Proposition 5, hospital loans; Proposition 6, insurance companies, gross premium tax; Proposition 7, state funds (allocation to local government); and Proposition 8, apportionment of local sales and use tax.

Some lucky person will win a new snowmobile of his choice, Dan Rose, chairman of the chamber Snowmobile Races, announced at a special meeting of the committee. Tickets are being sold by snowmobile dealers, chamber members and available at the chamber office. Jim Emerick, Virgil Johnson and Dennis McKeeman are serving on the committee. The Snowmobile Race will be the 4th Annual and will be held January 18, which promises one full, fun-packed day. It will be held on the Brockway Golf Course, thanks to the generosity of Gerry Eden, a very community-minded person.

At the board of directors meeting at Schuberts, the 15th, money was donated to the California Office of Tourism so that North Lake Tahoe could be included in their booth at the New York and Chicago Sports Shows. It seems ironic that one of the wealthiest states in the country does not have adequate funds for promotion. Even when you have a great image, it's necessary to keep it that way and be represented at the largest recreational shows in the U.S.A.

The chamber's Big Move will take place Saturday, November 2. Although it is just across the street to 295 No. Lake Blvd (to the new Chalet-type building) we'll need helping hands. Any chamber member wishing to help, please meet at the chamber office at 10 a.m. Nov. 2.

Incline Loss To Lander

Fullback Casey Kottke scored three touchdowns and halfback Mike Marvel tallied twice Saturday while leading Lander County High School to a 40-0 victory over Incline Village in a non-conference football game.

The Longhorns scored in every quarter and were never in trouble.

Kottke put his mates on the scoreboard in the first quarter with a five yard run. His other TD's came on a 10-yard dash. and a 35-yard pass interception.

He picked up 98 yards rushing on the day and Marvel collected 75.

Film Scheduled

Next film scheduled at the University of Nevada Theater on the Reno Campus is "The Caretaker." Showings are at 7 and 9 p.m.

The 1963 English production is the film version of Pinter's play which rates such comments as "marvelous film" (Newsweek) and "Brilliant bonedeep acting" (New York Times).

PTA Dinner

A dinner is scheduled Friday, Oct. 25 by Incline Elementary and secondary schools PTA.

PTA president, Mrs. Dorothy Smith, said it will be held at Crystal Bay Club beginning at 7 p.m. Prizes will be awarded. The dinner is the only fund raising PTA project of the year.

Eye Clinic Set For Wednesday

Members of the Truckee Parents Cooperative Nursery were given final instructions in how to assist the nurse with the eye clinic next week. Roberta Huber explained the importance of the vision screening program of the Oct. 16 meeting held in the home economics room at Truckee High School. Amblyopia (also called 'lazy eye') must be detected before a child is 6 years old to be treated successfully.

All parents in the area are urged to bring their pre-school children to the school administration building on Wednesday, October 30, between 11:30 a.m and 1 p.m. for this simple test. For information call 587-3247.

Rummage Sale

A rummage sale Nov. 8 and 9 has been scheduled by Incline Village Community Presbyterian Church Women's Association.

Chairman Mrs. Art Wood said it will be held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. each day at Cetars' office building, Mays and Southwood Boulevard, Incline Village.

Arrest Woman On Suspicion

Katherine Gardiner, 24, was arrested by Placer County deputies at a Kings Beach tavern on suspicion of selling marijuana.

OPEN LETTER
By "Doc" Hendrickson
Candidate for Hospital Director

Two years ago three doctors from Sacramento, wanting to open an office in Alpine Meadows, applied for Staff privileges in the Tahoe Forest Hospital. The Medical Staff rejected their application, so having no hospital in which to work in this area, the three doctors went away to practice elsewhere.

Two months ago a general practitioner wanted to move into this area to do general practice and obstetrics and applied for office space in Kings Beach. He worked Monday through Friday in the emergency room of the hospital during the month of August and was assured by the Medical Staff that he would be granted hospital privileges at the end of the summer to open his own practice. Near the end of August he was informed by the Medical Staff that after Labor Day his services would no longer be needed. The doctor was denied staff privileges, so having no hospital in which to work, he went away to practice elsewhere.

Ten years ago an orthopedic surgeon from Los Angeles came to this area to practice and was also rejected by the Medical Staff who told him "we don't need a bone specialist in this area, there isn't enough work in your field here." Unlike the other doctors rejected by this hospital staff, he did not go away to practice elsewhere. He stayed and fought for his rights and served on the staff under a Writ of Mandate of the Superior Court of Nevada County and was protected by a restraining order issued by the court. The chief of staff signed an affidavit against the orthopedic surgeon who had been in practice 20 years and who had served on the staffs of a dozen hospitals. He initiated a hearing that lasted eleven days at great expense to the taxpayer. The attorneys for the Hospital District called in special counsel from Sacramento at the tax payers' expense. The Medical Staff called in special counsel supposedly at their own expense. The respondent to this political maneuver represented himself without counsel because the charges made against him were illegal and ridiculous and unworthy of legal expenses. The total Hospital District expenses to date for this attempted monopoly of the Hospital staff is approximately $15,000.00.

At a recent Hospital Board of Directors meeting, however, it was proposed that the hospital District should pay not only the legal fees of the Hospital District but should also pay the legal fees of $4,500.00 for the Medical Staff. The chief of staff also presented his own personal fee of $1,000.00 for attending the hearing. If the District honors this bill and if the District pays the legal fees of the medical staff I shall invoke the service of the Grand Jury.

When I am elected to the Hospital Board of Directors I will publicly expose any corruption of administration or misappropriation of tax funds by publication at my own expense. Vote for HENDRICKSON, Nov. 5.

State Chamber Supports Prop. 6 For Education

The California State Chamber of Commerce and the California Teamsters Legislative Council have officially endorsed Proposition 6 on the November ballot, it was announced today by David Packard, Northern California chairman of the Citizens Committee for a "Yes" vote on 6.

Packard said passage of Proposition 6 will prevent a discriminatory tax on the retirement programs of teachers and other employes of independent colleges, universities and scientific institutions in California. Retirement programs for State-supported schools are not taxed, and no other state in the nation places a tax on the retirement programs of either state-supported or independent colleges and universities.

Non-partisan and without formal opposition, Proposition 6 was unanimously adopted by both houses of the State Legislature.

"Calofornia's booming Space-Age economy — creating more and more jobs and an ever widening, more equitable tax base — is attributable in a large measure to the accomplishments of our institutions of higher learning," Mr. Packard said.

"If Proposition 6 should fail," Packard said, "California would stand alone among 50 states and teachers from other states would be unable to transfer their retirement programs to California. Recruitment would be difficult."

Historically, the retirement programs of teachers and employees of California's colleges and universities have not been subjected to state premium taxes. Although pension programs of college institutions were not an issue in a recent California Supreme Court case, the broad effect of the court's decision will result in a tax on the retirement programs of the independent colleges and universities.

Mr. Packard said California's independent colleges educate more than 25 percent of all college students at no cost to the taxpayers. If these students were enrolled in State-supported schools, the additional cost to taxpayers would exceed $150,000,000 annually, excluding the replacement cost of the land, buildings and equipment which have been privately financed.

He said a "Yes" vote on Proposition 6 will authorize the Legislature to continue the equal treatment of retirement programs of both the public and independent sectors of higher education in California.

"The independent educational institutions in California today are faced with a financial crisis and it is of vital importance that they be allowed to operate without discriminatory taxation," Mr. Packard said.

Members of the Statewide Citizens Committee For Yes On Proposition 6 include Charles de Bretteville, Leonard K. Firestone, Mortimer Fleishhacker, Jr., John Anson Ford, William Hewlett, Dr. J. E. Wallace Sterling, Dr. Norman Topping, and Edwin W. Pauley.

'Small' Gas User Refunds

LAS VEGAS — Any refunds to Southwest Gas Corporation customers stemming from alleged overcharging due to estimated gas consumption last winter probably will be small, according to C. H. McCrea, vice president and general cousel of the corporation.

The Nevada Public Service Commission has directed the Las Vegas Corporation to return money to allegedly overcharged customers.

PSC also has ordered the corporation to improve its business practices.

"This is a proposed order and under the commission's rules of procedure we have until Nov. 6 to file exceptions," McCrea said.

"Undoubtedly we will take exception to some parts of the proposed order but it would be unsuitable to comment on the exceptions we propose to make prior to the formal filing.

"Because of inquires received at our offices it appears necessary to comment upon the possibility of refunds discussed in the proposed order," McCrea said.

" 'Pro-ration' of billings have been strictly in accordance with the company's filed rate schedule," he said. "...the amounts of refunds which may be ordered would be relatively small. The average refund would be approximately 80 cents.

"Only a portion of the customers in the Carson City-Lake Tahoe area would receive any refunds," he said.

WE'RE SEARCHING
THE TAHOE AREA
FOR A MAN . . .

Frankly, it may take months to find him. But we're willing to wait . . . the opportunity is that important.

Here's a quick "profile" of the person we're looking for. Education . . . college or equivalent. In all likelihood, he's making good progress. But he has a problem. He knows he's capable of doing better feels "trapped" by a salary structure which is good, but not good enough.

If you fit this general description, we'd be happy to talk to you about this salaried opening in our organization. It may require several interviews . . . will certainly require exhaustive tsts. But should you turn out to be the man we are looking for . . . we can promise it will be well worth your time and trouble.

To pursue the matter further, write a letter outlining your business experience, age, marital status. (If you prefer, call Mr. Maas, (916) 544-6185.)

SCHOOL DEDICATION – A large gold key, symbolizing the new Meyers Elementary School, was presented to the Lake Tahoe Unified School District by Mitchell Van Bourg, architect for the school, at dedication ceremonies Wednesday night. Special guests attending the dedication program were sitting, from left: Hans A. Mayr, El Dorado County superintendent of schools; Anthony J. Magliari, superintendent of the Lake Tahoe Unified School District; Norma J. Loeffler, board of education member; Mary Burlingham, clerk of the board of education; Oscar Faoro of Faoro Construction Co., Inc., contractors of the school; and standing from left: Gerard (Bill) Hauck, assistant district superintendent; Norman Enfield, principal of Meyers School; Mitchell Van Bourg, architect of the school; Francis J. Makley, board of education president; of education; and Norm Woods of Faoro Construction Co. —Tribune Photo

Carson-Tahoe Hospital Completion Moved Up

CARSON CITY – Completion date for the $2.5 million Carson–Tahoe Hospital has been pushed forward several weeks, according to Earl Branson, chairman of the hospital board.

This is the second rescheduling of completion dates for the hospital.

When the old Carson–Tahoe Hospital was razed by a fire in late August, completion date for the new building was moved from a late November date to Oct. 21.

The new date doesn't surprise Branson, nor does he consider the delay serious.

"I felt in my own mind that when we moved this date up there would be a delay for 30 days or longer," Branson said.

"It happens in almost all new buildings of this kind. I haven't seen one yet that wasn't delayed," he noted.

Since the fire, Ormsby County hospital patients have been treated on an emergency basis at the Carson Medical Center and a federally–administered hospital at Stewart, eight miles from Carson City.

Gray Gets Post At North Tahoe

KINGS BEACH — North Tahoe Community Club has named local resident, Earl Gray, to head the organization for the coming year.

Other officers named to serve with Gray include Carl Brooks, vice president; Lila E. Gill, recording secretary; Helen B. Elliott, corresponding secretary; and Herman Johnson, treasurer.

Less Fire Danger Eases Forest Closure

PLACERVILLE – Irwin E. Bosworth, Eldorado National Forest supervisor, states that storms of the past weekend have given sufficient amounts of precipitation to rescind the fire closure restrictions that were placed in effect May 15.

In removing these restrictions, campfire permits are no longer required and smoking rules are no longer in force, he reported.

Bosworth reminds persons that written permits are required for all burning, either in open piles or incinerators until Dec. 1.

The 1968 fire season, although more severe than normal, burned a total of 16 acres, which is well below the five year average of 48 acres, Bosworth noted. Man–caused fires totaled 62, compared with the five–year average of 50.

Major cause of fires were careless smokers and improperly extinguished campfires. Lightning caused fire incidents were low with 23 fires this year against a five year average of 52. Air tankers were used on 2 fires. Helicopters were used on 23 fires.

Bosworth commended the lumber industry for its cooperation during periods of high fire danger and for assistance in suppressing fires.

Advice from a college dean: "To prevent student protesting make it a required course."

Nevada Highway Plan Completed

CARSON CITY — A comprehensive highway safety plan for Nevada has been completed but legislative action will be needed to carry our many of its positive recommendations.

The extensive report was presented to state officials earlier this week at Gov. Paul Laxalt's Conference on Highway Safety in Reno. Prepared by the Safety Management Institute of Washington, its object was to determine what Nevada must do to comply with terms of the Highway Safety Act of 1966.

Each of the states must conform with 16 safety standards designated to reduce the accident and fatality toll on the nation's highways.

Nevada's highway safety program, under way since August, 1967, has progressed considerably, the report noted, but legislative action will be needed to strengthen federal safety requirements ranging from motor vehicle inspection and registration to motorcycle safety, driver education and alcohol in relation to highway safety.

The report was explained in depth by Russel Brown of Washington, D. C., president of the safety Institute to more than 165 western Nevadans meeting in the Pioneer Auditorium to explore ways of making Nevada's highways safer avenues of travel. A similar program was conducted in Las Vegas today.

The Institute's recommendations were turned over to James C. Bailey, director of Nevada's Motor Vehicle Department, the agency spearheading the safety program in Nevada.

Shortly thereafter, Russell McDonald, legislative counsel, assured those present many of the recommendations contained in the report would be presented to lawmakers as a "safety package" when the 1969 legislature convenes next year.

"We will have legislation ready," McDonald said, "to insure Nevada's compliance with terms of the Federal Safety Act."

McDonald complimented the Nevada Motor Vehicle Department for initiating the study, remarking that "Nevada is one of the first states to initiate a study of this magnitude."

Mobility In Down-Swing Among Youth

LOS ANGELES — A major national household mover today released figures on the summer moving business which shows that local mobility particularly among younger people, decreased for the first time in 10 years. Long distance moving increased.

Daniel P. Bryant, president of Bekins Van & Storage Co., Los Angeles, said that according to government surveys and figures from his firm, the mobility pattern of the nation during the summer indicates that:

1. Local moving in the lower income – younger age group declined approximately 10 per cent from summer 1967, but long distance movement in the same wage–age bracket declined only slightly.

2. Among the 35 to 44 age bracket local moving increased 50 per cent and long distance was up nearly 100 per cent.

3. Local and long distance moving among the 44 and over age group remained about the same as last year.

Bryant said that several factors may have caused the decline in local moving among the lower age and income group: "The high cost of money, tight housing supply, and the fact that many of the younger men who ordinarily would be among the most mobile are in the armed forces.'

"These same factors," Bryant added, "are less important in the long distance market in which many moves result from employe transfers paid for by a business firm."

Bryant said that he expects an improvement in local moving business by mid–1969. He stated that preliminary figures indicate that Bekins summer moving business was at an all–time high.

Bryant pointed out that nearly 40 per cent of all moving is done during June, July, August and September. It is estimated that nearly 19 million Americans moved during the past summer.

3 Utah State Grads Finish Key Training

CARSON CITY — Completion of rotational training for three graduates of Utah State University was recently announced by State Highway Engineer John Bawden.

After 27 months of orientation and instruction in the major divisions of the Nevada Highway Department, civil engineers Joseph England, William Buxton, and Laurnal Gubler have been assigned as regular employees to positions in construction, testing, and structural design, respectively.

During their more than two years of special training, the graduate engineers have worked in every major operational area of the Department: construction, testing, maintenance, planning, right–of–way, administration, and design.

They have been provided both field and office experience.

The orientation training is designed to acquaint new engineers with the various highway activities and their interrelationship to each other and the overall highway program.

Most experienced of the young graduates is Joseph England. The 32–year–old engineer had worked for the Utah State water research laboratory, the U.S. Forest Service, the Santa Ana, California department of public works, and as an employee of the England Brothers construction company of Tooele, Utah.

He was born and raised in Tooele, and his parents currently reside there. His educational background includes a degree in education from Brigham Young university, and post–graduate courses in engineering from Long Beach State and Santa Ana Junior colleges.

England, his wife, and four children live in Carson City. He currently is assigned as an assistant resident engineer to William Wilke on an Interstate 80 freeway job in Reno.

William Buxton was born in Tremonton, Utah, and raised in Vale, Oregon. The experience of this 26–year–old engineer includes working summers for the Oregon Highway Department and the U.S. Forest Service.

His family now lives in Vale.

He is living in Carson City, and is assigned to Donald Collins, head of the research and investigation section of the testing division.

Newest to the engineering field is 26–year–old Laurnal Gubler.

Keep Cool When Your Car's Kaput

SACRAMENTO – There are a few very annoying minor malfunctions that occur in the best of automobiles. Most are simple to remedy, and the cardinal rule for self-repair of an urgent minor breakdown is do it methodically and calmly, says the California State Automobile Association.

As examples, let's look at a blaring, stuck horn; a sticking accelerator pedal, with all the immediate danger that implies; and a frozen automobile lock.

When that horn sticks, and the noise is waking up the whole neighborhood, you can solve the problem in a matter of seconds by shaking the horn depressor or button vigorously. It may be stuck because of accumulated dirt particles beneath it.

Try pushing the depressor from various angles, tapping sharply.

If this fails, you should remove the wire from the horn or hornrelay. Learn in advance how this simple operation can be performed on your make of car by asking a service station attendant. Alternately, you can open the hood and cut the most accessible wire to the horn.

The stuck accelerator pedal is a more serious problem and you should not attempt any repair on your own.

If you are driving and the pedal sticks, leave the stuck pedal strictly alone, put the gear shift lever in neutral position and immediately turn off the ignition.

Apply the brakes gradually, but firmly and guide the vehicle off the highway on the right side of the road.

During the winter months you can eliminate the possibility of a frozen lock by keeping both door and trunk locks lubricated with a little powdered graphite or a light oil.

If you haven't taken this step and some frosty morning find a frozen lock, you can quickly solve the problem by heating the end of your key with a cigarette lighter or match held a little below the tip of the key.

Know How To Store Your Boat?

DETROIT — Among the most wistful moments a boating enthusiast experiences is taking his craft out of the water for the last time each season. However, relaunching the boat next spring can be an even happier occasion if the engine is in top shape.

To help achieve that condition, Champion Spark Plug Company offers some tips on proper engine storage techniques. Says Champion, if the engine was running rough during late-season operation, it's best to have it professionally examined and serviced prior to storage.

If the engine has been operating normally, Champion offers these do-it-yourself hints:

1. On the final outing, remove unused fuel. Idle the engine to run fuel out of the tank, lines and carburetor before removing the engine from the water.
2. Remove the drain plug, gear case and drive shaft housing plug to allow all water to drain. Then tilt the engine from side to side. If the engine was operated in salt water or water with high silt content, flush the engine with fresh water.
3. Rinse the engine shroud and lower unit. Wipe them with a lightly oiled or waxed cleaning cloth.
4. Remove the spark plugs and pour about two tablespoons of clean oil into each port. Crank the engine about 10 revolutions to distribute the oil along the cylinder walls.
5. While the spark plugs are out, examine them for proper gap setting and fouling. Regap and clean if necessary. If spark plugs are basically sound, reinstall them. Otherwise replace them with new ones.
6. After rainstalling spark plugs, wipe ignition wires and connections. Make certain the wires are connected to the proper cylinder.
7. Flush out the gas tank with gasoline. Clean the tank and carburetor screens.
8. Change the grease in the lower unit and lubricate all links and swivels.
9. Remove the prop and apply a light film of grease to the prop shaft. Check for nicks, blade angle and balance.
10. Mount or stand the engine in an upright position in a clean, dry location — not a damp basement.
11. Protect the engine with a canvas or plastic covering.

Campus Experiences Rapid Building Growth

"If you haven't seen the Reno Campus recently your're missing a lot," says Dr. James Botsford, president of the University of Nevada Alumni Association. "Seventeen new buildings in less than a decade must stand as some kind of growth record."

Dr. Botsford's recitation of new buildings to be seen is one way of inviting as many graduates and alumni as possible to attend the 1968 Homecoming festivities Oct. 24–26 in Reno.

Appropriate to the university's unparalleled growth is the theme "Awareness '68", which both students and alumni association committeemen believe reflects the need for alumni to understand the new university.

Changes which may bring tears to those who've missed a few homcomings include the demolition of Artemisia Hall just a few weeks ago to make way for expanding a student union building which many older graduates may never have seen. The old Mackay Stadium is gone, replaced by a new one high on the hill north of old campus. In its place, a new Mack Social Science Building named for noted Nevada historian Dr. Effie Mona Mack.

Coming soon, with construction to start this month, is a new physical sciences building at a cost of $3.6 million.

Because the campus "aint't what is used to be," a special feature of the 1968 Homecoming celebration will be conducted tours of the new campus starting every five minutes between 11:30 a.m. and noon Oct. 26 from the Jot Travis Student Union (north end of Manzanita Lake for old grads).

Homecoming 1968 starts with the Wolves Frolic Oct. 24 at 8 p.m. in the Pioneer Theater Auditorium which replaced the old State Building in downtown Reno.

Friday, Oct. 25, starting at 6:30 p.m. in the Nugget Convention Center in Sparks there will be class reunions for the classes of 1943, 1948, 1953, 1958 and a silver reunion for all alumni of classes prior to 1943. The festivities open to all alumni at 9 p.m.

Saturday, Oct. 26, starts with fizzes for breakfast at 7:30 a.m. in the Sky Room of the Mapes Hotel open to all alumni. The annual alumni breakfast, also open to all, starts at 8 a.m.

The Homecoming parade begins tracing its traditional path through downtown Reno at 10 a.m.

The conducted tours of campus start at 11:30 a.m. as does a new Homecoming feature inaugurated this year, an Independent Luncheon in the Jot Travis Lounges with speakers and special guests. Everyone is welcome, independent or not.

Kickoff time for the Homecoming football game will be 1:30 p.m. at the new Mackay field. A strong Nevada team will be pitted against conference foe Sacramento State College.

After the game fraternities and sororities will play host to alumni visitors at individual open houses.

Homecoming festivities close Saturday night with the Alumni Dance at the Reno Elks Club.

The dance is free to new graduates and paidup members in the alumni association.

NEA Names Specialists In California

WASHINGTON, D. C. — A press, radio, and television coordinator and a field representative who will specialize in Mexican-American matters have, for the first time, been added to the National Education Association's West Coast staff in Burlingame, Calif.

They are Ned Hopkins, a former Turlock, Calif., history teacher, and Reynaldo L. Martinez, who has served as an assistant project director for the federal Upward Bound program and as a legislative consultant in NEA's Burlingame office. The two appointments are part of a significant expansion of NEA's field services.

"We are making every effort to bring NEA's services, such as consultation on salaries, negotiation agreements, and community relations, close to our 1.1-million members," said Cecil J. Hannan, associate executive secretary. "Whenever our state and local associations need assistance, we want to be there — and fast."

Hopkins, a native of Illinois, taught at the military dependents' school at Chaumont Air Force Base in France; Canadian Academy, Kobe, Japan; and Newton High School, Newton, Mass., before joining the Turlock High School staff in 1966. For two years he was a department chief and account executive for the International Public Relations Co., Tokyo.

Federal Money To 39 Counties

SACRAMENTO – Thirty-nine counties containing United States forest reserve areas received apportionments totaling $8,605,082 from the federal government, Hugh Flournoy, state controller, reported.

The amount represents 25 per cent of total revenues from forest reserves in California received by the federal government during fiscal year 1968 – an increase of $2,136,117 or 33.02 percent over the apportionment for the preceding year.

El Dorado County's share was $369,027.73.

One half of the amount apportioned to each county is deposited in its county school service fund and one half in its county road fund.

"It may be interesting to note that the 11 counties having the smallest population will receive 34.2 per cent of the total apportioned, although this group has only one half of 1 per cent of the state's total population. The same counties, however, contain 34.85 per cent of the total forest reserve area in the state," Flournoy said.

Government Consolidation Discussion

CARSON CITY — A possible consolidation of Carson City and Ormsby County governments is to be discussed next Friday by Nevada political candidates and interested person.

Consolidation will be Question No. 3 on the statewide ballot. It must gain approval in a statewide vote, even though it only affects Ormsby County residents.

Mrs. Anna Koch, assisting in arranging the meeting, said there is too much confusion and not enough information about the question and she is afraid some voters will vote "No."

Those who have agreed to attend the meeting are Keith Macdonald and John Meder incumbent Republican candidates to the Ormsby County Commission; Leslie Carlson and Eilliam Rogers, Democratic candidates for the commission and Dr. John Homer, an incumbent assemblyman from the Douglas Ormsby legislative district.

Mrs. Koch said Carson City Mayor James Robertson and several other persons who are not seeking election are to speak on the matter.

Sewer Bonds Are Sold

TAHOE CITY — Tahoe City Public Utility District general obligation bonds totaling $90,000 have been purchased by the Unigard Insurance Group, according to Jack R. McFarland, division manager, San Francisco.

The bonds, purchased from a San Francisco bank, will finance sewer system improvements.

Area Gas Customers In Line For Refunds

CARSON CITY – Northern Nevada and Lake Tahoe Basin customers of Southwest Gas Co. will apparently get refunds, after the Nevada Public Service Commission ruled certain customers were overcharged by the company because of estimated gas comsumption last winter.

The Commission told Southwest Gas to improve its business practices, including the hiring of an adequate number of meter readers in its service area.

It is estimated that customers in the entire lake basin in Nevada, Incline Village, Douglas County and Carson City could be affected.

Commissioner Noel Clark said the PSC made no attempt to compute how much it will cost the gas company, but he called it the stiffest penalty which could have been imposed.

He said Southwest errors of last year will be costly, mostly because of bookkeeping "because all of this will have to be hand computed."

Last year, the PSC received nearly 300 complaints from customers who protested severe fluctuations in gas bills between December and January.

Clark said 243 customers in Carson City and about 50 at Lake Tahoe had complained about their December and January bills.

The PSC said the gas company must return the money it owes customers within 45 days.

Southwest Gas may protest the order within 20 days.

The company was ordered to make "altitude" adjustments to meters above 6,200 feet, which Clark said should yield large refunds to Lake Tahoe customers.

It gave permission to Southwest's customers to read their own meters and send them to the company's office in Carson City during bad weather.

Southwest can only estimate bills if there is severe weather accompanied by heavy snow, a large vicious dog prohibits the meter reading, or some unusual circumstance makes it impossible to read the meter, according to Clark.

The company, if it does estimate under those conditions, must take into account the gas usage during the same month the previous year, temperature changes from the preceding month and the amount of gas consumed during that month.

Laxalt Presses Naming Of Agency Members

CARSON CITY – Gov. Paul Laxalt would like to have commissioners in three Nevada counties bordering Lake Tahoe put off action on special zoning at the lake until representatives are named to a bi-state agency.

These representatives then could meet to consider development problems.

In a letter to the Washoe County Commission two weeks ago, the governor asked that the commission refer applications for special use permits at the lake back to the Regional Planning Commission.

But he did not specify for how long he wanted a zoning moratorium.

He said he hopes the moratorium will continue until the agency is functioning.

He has asked Washoe, Ormsby and Douglas commissions to name their representatives to the agency quickly.

Laxalt named the state's representative – Ivan Sack, Reno's parks director – Wednesday.

The Washoe County Commission has postponed consideration of its representative, but Laxalt said he has urged it again to name a representative soon.

Ormsby County will probably appoint a representative when the commission meets Monday.

It will be several months before the Tahoe Regional Planning Agency is a legal entity because a compact between Nevada and California must be approved by Congress.

An aide to Gov. Paul Laxalt said the agreement should have been approved by Congress before it adjourned last week. But reports from the secretaries of agriculture and interior, which are prerequisites to congressional consideration, were not made.

No problems are anticipated when the Congress does consider the compact, the aide said.

County Drops Standards On Rural Housing

PLACERVILLE – An amendment to El Dorado County zoning regulations has been approved by the board of supervisors.

The amendment will allow lower standards for the development of rural subdivisions to promote the development of open spaces in the county.

Although subdivision maps and plans will be approved under the new regulations, roads and other developments will not be accepted for county maintenance under the lower standards. Roads will be jointly maintained by property owners in the subdivisions.

El Dorado County Planning Director Bruce Robinson said the ordinance changes are intended to provide an experimental approach to subdividing remote acreages and the requirements might have to be amended if problems arise in the administration of the rules.

The regulations require that all sanitation and water facilities comply with county health and safety regulations and utility easements must be provided.

The major feature of the new regulations is the reduction in minimum standards for roads within the subdivision. The rules provide that developments with lots of 10 or more acres need not have paved roads and that paving for developments with lots of two to five acres need only minimum paving.

Developers and real estate brokers in the county have commended the ordinance changes for the potential increase in assessed valuation to come from the lands that will be developed under the new regulations.

The board voted to abandon Shingle Lime Road near Shingle Springs after evidence presented at a hearing indicated the county had no claim to the road.

The road has been owned by the El Dorado Limestone Co., which built it more than 35 years ago. Officials of the company claimed the county had never done any maintenance work on the road. The road was inadvertently placed on a list of county roads during a state road certification project 20 years ago.

Awards presentation . . .

Criminology Honors Awarded Local Men

Three persons associated with law enforcement in El Dorado County were singled out for honors by the American Association of Criminology, affiliate of the International Criminology, affiliate of the International Criminology Society of America.

Life membership certificates in the organization were presented to Ernest Carlson, El Dorado County sheriff, coroner and public administrator: Detective Capt. Richard J. Lowe, command officer of the sheriff's station, South Lake Tahoe; and Paul E. Gervais, local attorney and former assistant district attorney.

Making "fellow of the society" awards to the men was Capt. William H. Rasband of South Lake Tahoe Detectives, vice president of the association and member of the national commitee on awards and professional ethics.

Awards were authorized by American Association of Criminology Board of Directors and approved by the credentials commettee. The association is the first and largest criminological unit in America.

In presenting the awards, Rasband said, "The American Association of Criminology looks to the future in a spirit of professional cooperation with any individual or organization interested in advancing the cause of criminological education, the study of causation of crime, the indentification of criminals and the detection of crime and the prevention of criminality."

Nevada Lodge Presents Joe Val & The Val Aires

Just as they did last March, the Val Aires are proving once again to be one of the top attractions to be starred at beautiful Nevada Lodge on the north shore of Lake Tahoe.

Headed by guitarist Joe Val, the group presents a dynamic performance that runs the gamut from contemporary hits to folk songs to standards of past decades. The musical fare is liberally laced with fresh wit and humor that keeps Nevada Lodge audiences happy and laughing.

Joe Val and The Val Aires are a spirited trio, with Joe Val's wife, Donna, complementing him on the accordion, plus a talented drummer to round out the combo.

As North Lake Tahoe's largest year-round resort hotel casino, Nevada Lodge presents sparkling entertainment 12 months of the year. The current engagement of Joe Val & The Val Aires is through November 3 . . . a bright two weeks for Nevada Lodge entertainment buffs. The group appears nightly in the hospitable Topaz Room.

Annexations

PLACERVILLE – Two annexations to the South Tahoe Public Utility District, adding 920 acres on the south and west sides, have been approved by the El Dorado County Local Agency Formation Commission.

Dealing On Bug Station

TRUCKEE — Board of directors of the local public utility district have instituted a move to purchase the land and improvements of the state quarantine station west of Truckee on old Highway 40.

Francis Longo, manager of TPUD, has been authorized by the board to start negotiations to acquire the unused station, put up for sale as surplus.

The former "bug station" has been replaced by a newer one on Interstate 80 and the old unit has been priced at $58,000 by California Department of General Services.

TPUD has been given an opportunity to purchase the station prior to Nov. 26, after which it would be offered at public sale.

Today's Chuckle

A youth's moustache was the pioneer of the installment plan — a little down and then a little more each week.

WHAT'S GOING ON HERE? — It looks wild, but it's only the new $2,000 "Universal Gym" installed at South Tahoe High's gym this semester for use by all school teams and gym classes. The machine has 10 "stations" and will aid athletes and physical conditioning classes to do situps, bench presses, leg and thigh exercises, pullups and other excercises. —Tribune Photo
